You can choose to disable some of these protections in the settings on your Device, however, Blizzard may continue to receive information about apps installed through At Full, and apps installed on your Device from other sources may continue to be analyzed for security issues without sending information to Blizzard.

Changes to these Terms. If the Terms change, you will be given at least 30 days notice, and the new Terms will be effective after such notice period. Your continued use of At Full following such notice period will indicate your acceptance of the new Terms. The new Terms will apply to your use of all Content (including Content you have installed or purchased in the past) and all subsequent installs or purchases. If you do not agree with such changes, you will be given the opportunity to download the Content you previously purchased or installed and terminate your use of At Full.
